The top of the page features a background of lush green grass. In the top right corner, there is a white rectangular box containing black text.

Additional Books Read

After completing 5 categories, you may fill out a prize ticket for every additional BOOK you read.

A decorative border with a red and white checkered pattern surrounds the central writing area. The border consists of alternating red and white squares, some of which have a fine grid or dot pattern inside them.

The central area of the page is divided into two columns of horizontal lines, intended for writing. Each column contains 15 blank lines for recording book titles and reading progress.
